Tracey Peterson

Born c. 1972
Language Alyawarr
Region Epenarra, NT

"I like painting about landscape, bush food and hunting, and painting with the ladies, sometimes doing it at home"

Alyawarr woman Tracey Peterson is an Epenarra artist from an accomplished family of artists; she is the daughter of Jessie Peterson and the younger sister of Susie and Mary Peterson, Tracey's daughters Pammy and Magdalene are also promising emerging artists.

Tracey's sister Susie taught her how to paint and assisted as she developed her techniques and built her ability to use dots to describe the bush food and medicine. Tracey has developed a painterly style, her figurative landscape portray the land around Epenarra with careful detail and colours.
