Mary Napangati

Born c.1955
Language Pintupi
Region Western / Central Desert

Biography

Mary was born near Wilkinkarra (Lake Mackay) circa 1955, and is the third child of four kids and one boy. Her family lived in the vicinity of Lappi Lappi, located towards the northern area of Lake Mackay, until they walked in to the Mt Doreen cattle station west of Yuendumu. By this time Mary was approximately ten years old. Her family walked on the station and the children were driven by truck to attend school at Yuendumu. When the station owner died, the family moved to Yuendumu, where she married, later moving further west of Nyirpi and giving birth to two boys. After her husband passed away Mary remarried the well known Papunya Tula artist Ronnie Tjampitjinpa and moved to Kintore, where she now lives and paints.
