Conway Ginger hailed from Docker River and moved to Alice Springs in 2004. He is an active young man, who is a passionate football supporter, music lover and an eager artist. Conway's wonderful sense of humour is evident within his artwork, fresh and vivid lines communicate his passions and inspirations that are drawn from everyday life. Showing great confidence with ink and wash, Conway's work continues to flourish and expand with every brushstroke. It is an exciting time for Conway as an emerging artist, whose expanding body of work progresses through new techniques and artistic mediums such as watercolours, fabric textiles and print-making. Conway Ginger is a Pitjantjatjara man born in Docker River, who's intuitive and eclectic range of laconic 'ink and wash' imagery speaks more of a daily humour, private cartoon worlds and 'outsider' art. Conway enjoys an Aboriginal lifestyle in remote Northern Territory, often depicting family, footy players, cowboys, camels horses, dogs, other wild animals and wild people!
